

Handrails

Guiding you safely

Handrails to guide you on stairs and ramps are an important safety feature. This is especially so for elderly or disabled persons who might need a little extra support in these situations.

They are non-welded for smooth, continuous, and customised lengths which are faster and easier to install with Stainless Steel fixtures. All to meet the highest standards.

There are also legal regulations around handrail shapes and sizes, depending on the classification of the stairway or ramp. LRR, LRS and VRE are the only compliant handrails when it comes to accessible stairways. When choosing a handrail, consult the experts.
